Well, we have just covered the book of Ephesians in the past few minutes. Well, almost. That was a very brief summary of this very important letter, but I just want to conclude by looking at the last few verses of this letter, which we read earlier in the service.

These last few verses of the letter are easy to overlook, yet I believe they have something important to say to us. I call it...

Partners in Ministry

The Apostle Paul was arguably the greatest Christian missionary this world has ever known. Unfortunately, we often isolate him in our thinking as though he single-handedly changed the world of his day. That is far from the truth and he was well aware of it. Paul often spoke about his fellow labourers and the role they played in his ministry – Romans 16, Colossians 4 and others.

We see it also in these closing verses of his letter to the Ephesians. **There are two specific areas of partnership that Paul refers to here.

1. **Prayer partnership – Paul sees prayer as playing a vital role of his ministry for Christ. Read vv. 18b-19a. To Paul it was important that his readers, the believers in Ephesus be labouring in prayer for one another, for the saints everywhere, and specifically for him—Paul. And what was his key request? **For the right words and the boldness to express them as he sought to proclaim the wonders of the gospel. This was even though he was currently bound in chains in Rome. Even there he had opportunities to proclaim the gospel and he knew he needed the prayers of the saints behind him. Have you ever wondered how to pray for the missionaries that you know and support. Certainly there are other things as well, but here is a wonderful suggestion. Pray that they will have the wisdom to know what to say and when to say and the boldness to proclaim it without fear.
2. **Ministry partnership – Paul knew it was neither safe or effective to try to carry on a “Lone Ranger” kind of ministry. He travelled with other men—Luke, Barnabas, Silas, and others who worked together with him. He often mentioned others who were vital to the work he was doing. One of the classic passages is in Romans 16. Turn and read Rom. 16:1-16. **Here in Ephesians, Paul mentions a man named Tychicus, a man who had faithfully served alongside Paul and was with him there in Rome. Now Paul was sending him along with these letters to Ephesus and Colossae, so that he could take news along to them of how things were going with Paul, and so he could be an encouragement to them, as he knew they worried about him.

This is an area I have been very weak in over the years. It is easy for some of us—for people like me—to become isolated and try to carry on our ministry, whether it is vocational ministry or what we sometimes term ‘lay ministry,’ all by ourselves without realizing the need for companionship and partnership in our work for the Lord.

Conclusion:

Well, as we leave behind this letter to the Ephesians I trust that we will not leave behind the lessons we have learned. As we wrap it up, remember to pray for one another. **Make supplication for all the saints, and also for me. I need your prayers, as we each need to be praying for each other.

And may we continue to work together in the ministry, to accomplish the will of God for our fellowship and for our community.

And if you are still unsure about your salvation, I urge you to settle that question once and for all, so that it can be said of you as Paul said of his readers in Ephesus:

“In him you also, when you heard the word of truth, the gospel of your salvation, and believed in him, were sealed with the promised Holy Spirit, who is the guarantee of our inheritance until we acquire possession of it, to the praise of his glory.” (Eph 1:13-14 ESV)
